Voice & Data Resale - VDR Resale

Our company is committed to encouraging 100% reuse and aim to impact the number of tech items sent to landfill in the UK.

We understand that retiring your old IT equipment while trying to stay compliant and eco-friendly can be quite the balancing act. Our Technology Life Cycle Management Services make the experience simple and secure.

VDR Resale offer several methods of data destruction, hard drive disposal, and electronics recycling.

VDR Resale takes an earth-friendly approach to E-Waste by properly disposing of, recycling, or refurbishing excess technology equipment.

Equipment that has value will be refurbished and resold to businesses that can truly benefit from the tech. This extends the lifecycle of the equipment. For equipment that has little value, we responsibly recycle as the need dictates. We offer cash buyback and asset liquidation programs, removals, secure shipping, and storage for all your IT asset needs.

VDR Resale has always paid careful attention to the secondary affects of doing business. Of course business is about trading a service or products for profit; but we keep foremost in our minds that we must also minimise any potential negative impact.

For this reason we have adopted many processes which support staff welfare, social and environmental responsibility.

Our Mission:

Our mission as a telecoms provider is to provide the best technology solutions and products for our customers, while at the same time, ensuring we are acting in an earth friendly manner. Our goal is to make Technology Lifecycle Management services accessible to every business all over the world.

Our Vision:

We believe in careful consideration of the results of our actions and feel we can create positive change with our recycle and refurbishment programs.

Our Value:

We aim, by analysing every business process in terms of waste, environmental impact and efficiency, to reduce, reuse and recycle - to feel good that our business makes a positive contribution to the environment.

Our aim complete customer satisfaction

We always aim to provide the best solutions at the best price for our customers. If, for any reason, you are not satisfied, please get in contact with us and we will do our best to resolve any issue you have.
